How do we move from 'managing delivery' to 'leading mission-critical programmes'?

"We need to open the 'closed doors' in operations by empowering the employed to do a job and then actually letting them do it."

How do we move from 'managing delivery' to 'leading mission-critical programmes'?

"Women shouldn't feel they need to do a job better than the guy, we just need inclusive policies for talent allocation."

How do we move from 'managing delivery' to 'leading mission-critical programmes'?

"It's about being outcome-focussed and believing in yourself as a person, independent of gender."
